QUIGLEYITES PRIMED FOR C. U. ENCOUNTER

Records of Neither Team Impressive During Past Season

PROBABLE LINE-UP GIVEN

Hatchetites Expected to Resort to Aerial Attack for Effective Gains

While the 1923 football season has been a very disappointing one, the Quigleyites intend to redeem themselves by giving Catholic University a good drubbing in the Thanksgiving game to be played at the Central Stadium, the first whistle blowing promptly at 2 p. m. The Hatchetites and the Brooklanders always enter the annual struggle pretty evenly matched, even though they may have had a hectic season, and the holiday battle is sure to be a feature.

Both G. W. and C. U. received sound lickings in their Saturday contests, but came through the game in fair physical condition. Quigley and Brewer, the Buff and Blue coaches, have been pointing for the Turkey Day battle for two weeks, and the local team should have reached the fine point of perfection by Thursday. George Washington will have a fine bag of tricks to greet the Gormleyites with, and an aerial attack will probably be the home hopefuls' main offensive.

Capt. Jim Ptak's Last Game.

When Captain Jimmy Ptak and Captain Ed (Dummy) Lynch meet to call the flip of the coin Thursday afternoon, it is probable the last gridiron battle that either will play for their school and surely the last time they will meet on the field. Both Ptak and Lynch are veterans of many a hard campaign and both will be trying to end their college grid days with a clean-cut victory. Ptak is a great end both at stopping the runs of opposing teams and at grabbing the overhead leave, and the Brooklanders will be on the lookout to stop this lank end, Lynch, who last year played end, has been shifted to fullback, where his defensive work and line smashes have been the feature of C. U.'s games.

It is difficult to give the probable line-up for the Hatchetites, since Coach Quigley usually likes to wait till the last minutes before a game to call his team. However, it seems highly probable that Bo Lamar, the McLain twins, who have shown great speed of foot and running ability, Hick Henderson, Dowds, a good defensive fullback, and Laux, a veteran of last years game will see service in the backfield. Kenouski, who was forced to give up football after the first few games because of work, has returned to practice, and if he is able to get into condition should be an added strength to the local backfield.

The ends will most probable be Long Jim Ptak and Sawyer, but the line is doubtful. Lackey, Goldman, Allen, Clements, Hottel, and Loeb seem to be the most likely candidates to start.

"A GHOST OF A CHANCE" PRESENTED IN DECEMBER

Three one-act plays are being prepared by different groups of the G. W. Players. The Phi Mu prize-winning play, "A Ghost of a Chance," written and directed by Beatrice Henning, will be given some time before the Christmas holidays. The cast has been selected, as follows:

Colonel Stafford.....Leon Chagnon
Mrs. Dangerfield.....Maryon Casey
Betty Hallan.....Elsie Talbert
Sophia.....Ann Wrightson
Philip Dangerfield.....Lois Siebold
The Burglar.....Douglas Hartman

"The Loving George," written in the Harvard Work Shop, by Professor W. N. Morse, is being directed now by him and will be given at a later date.

SOPHS DANCE AT CAIRO

Sophomore's held their second mixer of the year at the Cairo, Friday evening, November 23rd. About one hundred couples attended and tread the light fantastic to their youthful heart's content. Members of every class added their presence to that of the Sophomores, making it a University rather than a class affair.

TO ADDRESS ALUMNI

President W. M. Lewis will address the Alumni Association luncheon, 1 p. m., Friday, November 30, at the City Club. It is expected that the present endowment drive and plans for erecting the new building will be discussed at this time.

G. W. FOOTBALL SQUAD WHICH IS OUT TO BEAT C. U. AGAIN.

Here is the team that is pointing to beat the annual rival, Catholic University, Thanksgiving afternoon, at the Central Stadium, Thirteenth and Clifton Streets. Last year the Buff and Blue won 13-7. Everyone on the squad is out to repeat by beating C. U. Again.

Sitting: C. Lobdell, Loeb, Cooper, G. McLain, J. McLain, Carter, and Wolf. The efficient manager of the team, D. Milton Ladd, better known as "Mickey," was busy attending to the numerous details of his position when the photographer got into action and consequently is "among those missing."

G. W. PLANS ATHLETIC FIELD FOR OWN USE

Site Near University Tentatively Decided Upon By Committee

TO BE READY NEXT FALL

Can Enlarge Out of Dood Sport Program—Students Express Satisfaction at Progress

Plans for an athletic grounds and field house for the University are being formulated by President William Mather Lewis, Dean Hugh Miller, and Director of Student Activities, Bryan Morse. A site, intimated to be located close to the University classrooms, has been tentatively selected, and plans for grading and the laying out of the project has been undertaken with definite details to be given out in the near future.

The field will probably accommodate football, baseball, and track athletics, with ample provisions for suitable dressing quarters. With suitable facilities and easily accessibility to the University buildings, it is expected that the general out of doors athletics will be much easier to operate and tend to expand under such favorable physical conditions.

Cost of grading, the erection of the field house, or the rental of a suitable structure for dressing purposes is being taken up by Dean Miller and Bryan Morse. It is expected to have the athletic field and house ready for use next fall, when the football team reports for practice.

Great satisfaction has been expressed over this announcement by the student athletic leaders, as it is felt by them that this is a great step forward in the movement for better sports and a greater George Washington University.

W. S. POWERS ADDRESSES ENGINEERING SOCIETY

Urges Systematic Saving—Subject Is "Control of Production"—Plan for Mixer

Whitney S. Powers talked to the Engineering Society Tuesday, November 20, in the chapel of Lisner Hall, on "Control of Production." Mr. Powers brought to the students a number of the fundamental principles of production management.

The keynote of his lecture was that the principal saving in any industrial plant can be accomplished by decreasing the time between operations, this time being as high as ten times that required for a single operation, in some cases. A direct saving is thus accomplished. Charts by which the status of any order of job could be determined immediately will do this, thus enabling work to be laid out systematically and always keeping a surplus ahead. Proper arrangement of the machines also cuts down the waste.

A large crowd turned out for the meeting and also for the supper, which was served by the members of the Sphinx honor society at the Rabbit Hole. Much credit is due to the girls for the manner in which they handled the hungry engineers. The meeting was conducted by C. A. Burner, the civil engineer vice president.

A business meeting was held after the lecture and was presided over by President J. H. Winkler. A collection was taken up for a contribution toward the cost of Dean Howard L. Hodgkins' portrait. The pins of the society were put on sale and a committee was appointed, consisting of R. M. Ham, chairman, K. S. Markley, and G. K. Ludwig, to consider the advisability of abolishing the office of executive committeeman and creating the office of Chemical Engineering Vice President.

A dance committee was appointed, consisting of W. C. Allard, jr., Henry James, and Henry Seaquist to run the mixers and dances to be held by the society. Announcement was made that a mixer would be held December 6, 1923, at 8.30 p. m., in the chapel of Lisner Hall.

JUNIOR TEACHERS ELECT

Mary Bixler was elected president of the Junior Class of Teachers' College, Tuesday night, November 20. This is the first time in the history of the school that the class has elected officers. The other officers are: Isabelle Brown, vice president; LaVerne Crabtree, secretary; Mary Cramer, treasurer; and Winifred Michaelson, sergeant at arms.

ANNOUNCE SPECIAL CHAPEL FOR WEDNESDAY

Special chapel exercises for Thanksgiving will be held Wednesday at the usual hour, 12.30. Musical numbers in spirit with the occasion will feature the exercises.

Prof. Robert F. Griggs gave an illustrated lecture in the chapel Friday.

ACACIA PLAYS CARDS

The alumni of the Acacia Fraternity and their lady friends were entertained at cards by the local organization at the Chapter House, 1719 Eye Street N. W., Saturday evening, November 17th. Twelve different chapters were represented by sojourners in Washington.

SENIOR ENGINEERS ELECT

The Senior Engineers held their first class meeting on Tuesday, November 13th. The following officers were elected: E. C. McKay, E. E. president; A. M. Hartman, vice president; Chem. Eng.: L. P. Disney, secretary, M. E.; C. K. Yingling, Jr., treasurer, C. E.

May Have Senior Pins.

Seniors who are interested in having a pin made of the same design as the ring, leave their names with Miss Hof, Botany Laboratory, on in Columbian College office.

HOLDS TURKEY DAY DANCE

Kappa Tau Omega will hold its annual Thanksgiving dance at the Fraternity House on the evening of November 29. Prof. and Mrs. Elmer Louis Kayser will be the chaperons.

PLAN FOOTBALL RALLY

Students of George Washington University will gather in the auditorium of the Concordia Church, Twentieth and G Streets, Wednesday, November 28, at 4.30, to give the team a big send-off for the Catholic University game. Short speeches by President Lewis, Bryan Morse, and William A. Quigley, coach of the team, with songs and cheers will make up the program. Members of the squad will sit on the platform.

Another rally will be held for the Law School students at 6.50 the same day at the Law School.

Everybody is urged to attend these rallies and pep the team up for its big Turkey Day battle.

BEAUTIFUL EFFECTS FEATURE MASONS' DANCE

Masons and their best, to the number of a hundred couples, gathered in the Crystal Room of the New Ebbitt for a most pleasant evening of dancing, Wednesday, November 21.

The effect of the prismatic colors of the crystal lights and that of the bright colored, quaint, "old-fashioned" evening dresses with bouffant hoop-skirts, which many of the girls wore, lent an atmosphere of "Old Crinoline Days" to the dance.

HOLD COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Elections to the Student Council from the Graduate School and the School of Pharmacy are to be held December 13, according to announcement of the chairman of the committee, Lester Johnson.

All petitions must be handed in by December 6 to either Lester Johnson, Milton Friedman, or James Davies.

ADOPTS G. W. KEY

Design for a key to be worn by members of the G. W. Letter Club were adopted at the meeting, Monday, November 19. Plans for the cheering section at the Thanksgiving Day game was also discussed.

The club voted to send a basket of fruit to Lawrence Leeb, who broke his leg in the game with the University of Delaware.

DOWN C. U.

Thanksgiving Day afternoon, the traditional rivals, George Washington and Catholic University meet for the annual engagement on the football field. The student body should come out in full force and back the team.

Neither university has had a successful season, but both feel that if this game is counted in the win column all is well.

The men on the team have been working hard in order to win this game. The final result will depend, in a large measure, on the support that each student gives the afternoon of the contest. Let's not fail the team in the climax contest, and by our support help them down C. U.

GROWTH

Addition of field hockey and fencing to the girls' sports is a healthy sign of growth of athletics at George Washington University. Many more students will be given opportunity to engage in activities than was possible before.

It has been found by educators that it is best for the individual to have a well-balanced program of studies, athletic and social activities. It is for this reason that the larger universities are so heartily encouraging intramural sports.

Anything that encourages and gives opportunity for students to have the well-balanced program is to be supported. The recently formed field hockey and fencing teams do this, and consequently deserve encouragement and support.

Success to the new activities.

EXCHANGES

Mississippi A. and M. is working out a solution to the athletic problem. Every student is required to take a course of gymnasium and an examination as to his physical condition before he is given credit for his freshman work and can become a sophomore. This is done in order that every student may have opportunities to improve his health through college athletics.

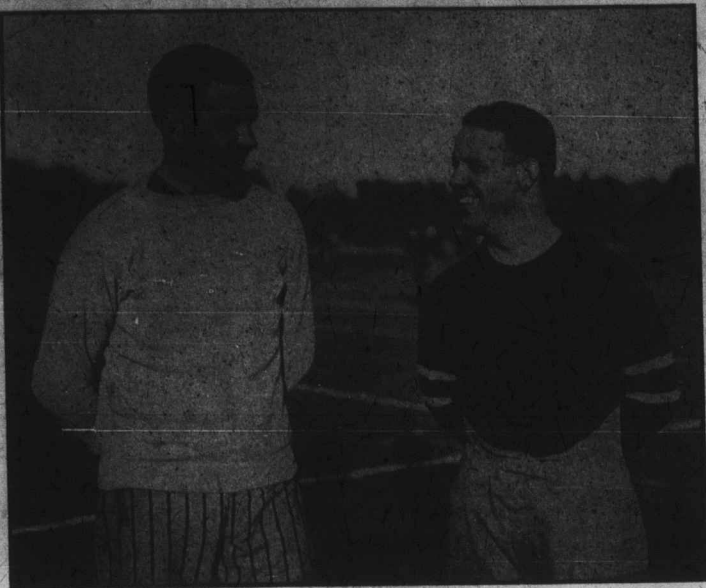

College "pay day" is a day set aside annually at Hood College, Maryland, on which everyone pays his class, club dues, and subscriptions to the college publications.

An endowment campaign at Furman University is progressing steadily. Alumni will return for a Thanksgiving Day jubilee, which is to mark the culmination of the campaign.

The roll of active chapters of Pi Delta Epsilon is now 37. They are located in colleges all over the country.

The faculty of Princeton have established a new system for class attendance. There is no limit to the number of cuts, it being supposed that a student is interested enough in his work to attend class. No record of attendance is kept, but as soon as a man begins to fall behind in his work, he is disciplined.

COACH QUIGLEY AND BREWER IN CONFERENCE.

Judging by the expression on the faces of Bill and Untz, the squad has nothing to fear from C. U. Turkey Day.

PLAN FORMULATING PRESS CLUB IN G. W. ARE LAID

Bryon Morse Speaks Before Journalism Class—Says Club Would Distribute News

George Washington will have a Press Association in the near future, if Bryan Morse's plans come to successful conclusion. In speaking before Professor W. N. Morse's Journalism Class last week, the Director of Student Activities outlined his hopes of forming of University students a regular association for general distribution of University news. Articles of universal interest will be submitted to local and other newspapers, and cooperation with the Hatchet will be an important feature.

"Such an organization would not only do a big work in keeping George Washington before the public eye, but would also furnish invaluable experience to journalism students," Mr. Morse believes that journalistic studies should be encouraged in colleges, and that an organization on the order of the one suggested would do more in this way than any other.

In continuing his talk, Mr. Morse explained the working of the telegraph or news desk, on which such contributions would be received and edited, and briefly sketched the organization of the other different departments. Many useful suggestions were given by the speaker on the perfection of style, and the gathering of material.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL PLANS MADE—TO MAKE 2 TRIPS

Fifty girls came out for the first meeting of Girls' Basketball on Monday evening, November 19, where plans were made for the coming year. Great spirit and enthusiasm was shown by all of those present.

Marguerite Daly, manager, announces that the Central High School gym has been obtained for practice. Miss Stockett, considered by many as the most competent basketball coach in the District, has been secured to coach the team. Beatrice Woodford was elected captain.

Two trips will be taken by the Girls' Varsity Team this winter. A northern trip will be taken in February, when the team will play against Swarthmore, University of Pennsylvania, and Temple College. The team will go to Williamsburg to play William and Mary, stopping at Richmond to meet Richmond College.

All girls are urged to come to practice December 4 at 7.30, at Central High School.

DAVID ALEXANDER SPEAKS BEFORE JOURNALISM CLASS

W. N. Morse's class in journalism spent a delightful hour Friday, Nov. 16 when David L. Alexander, of the "Provincetown Players," an alumnus of George Washington University, addressed the class. Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece, "The Hairy Ape," was vividly analyzed as an illustration of the expressionistic school of playwriting. Alexander stressed the point that the prevalent idea of the theater as a place for the amusement of tired business, should be abolished. He plans to originate in Washington a club composed of theater artists, and members of the public interested in an intensive study of the theater. Lectures will be given by noted authorities, and plays will be produced, with the object in view of educating the city in the art of stagecraft. The famous playwright, Eugene O'Neill, has consented to write Mr. Alexander's first play.

Brown to Marry.

Earl Brown, former member of the Hatchet staff, will marry Mildred Pillsbury, of Baltimore, Md., November 29, 1923. Kappa Tau Omega fraternity will attend the ceremonies in a body.

This Year's Song Hit.

"When the Banana Peels Are Blooming, I'll Come Slipping Back to You."

BOX FOR ADDRESS CHANGES

The Hatchet has placed a box in Lisner Hall and one in the office of the Registrar for the purpose of having any change of addresses for the Hatchet or any improvements that the students might like to suggest.

Legal Sorority Gives Dinner. Kappa Beta Pi, legal sorority, gave a dinner for its pledges, Miss Marjorie Gerry and Miss Marylene Maw, at the New Willard Hotel, Monday evening, November 12th.

CANDIDATES REPORT FOR TRACK SQUAD

Many Veterans Return—Inter-Class Meet Fostered by G. W. Club Meets With Favor of Team

Members of the Track Squad of last year and several new men interested in this branch of sport assembled at Lianer Hall, Friday evening, at which time short talks relative to the training program and meets were made by Manager Jack Reynolds, Capt. Tolson, and Coach Probeby.

Prospects for a good Track Squad this season are bright. Practically all the members of last year's Squad are back, and the new candidates reporting for training look promising. The mile relay team will be greatly strengthened by the return of "Bill" Simmons, who ran anchor on the winning G. W. mile relay team at the Penn Relays two years ago. Grass, Peake, Fountain, Graeff, Laux, and Capt. Tolson of last year's relay teams, as well as Nichols, McCoy, Koster, Tracy, Myers, Youngman, Harmon, Marble, Ludwig, Young, and others have already reported.

Indoor meets this season will include, as usual, the Georgetown Annual Indoor Meet, at Convention Hall, February 21, and the Johns Hopkins Indoor Meet, at Baltimore. The outdoor meets include two or three dual meets, a quadrangular meet, the American Legion Field Meet, the South Atlantic, and the Penn Relays. The idea of having an Inter-Class Field Meet in April, which is being fostered by the G. W. Club, is looked upon with favor by the Coach and the Track Squad not only as a means of aug-

RESULTS OF PAST SEASON GIVEN; PRAISES SUBS

Team Makes Great Stand Against Marines—Beat Drexel Institute and Juniata College

George Washington has had a rather disappointing season this year, but when one considered the difficulties under which the squad has been laboring and the fact that but few of the veterans returned, nothing but praise can be felt for Bill Quikley, Untz Brewer, and his loyal squad of footballers.

Opening the season against Georgetown the Hatchettes played great football, holding the huskier Hilltoppers to a hollow 20 to nothing victory. The locals turned in wins over Juniata of Pennsylvania and Drexel Institute of the same State, but met with defeats from their other opponents. The Marine battle was a revelation of the Quigley defense. George Geottge and his cohorts were stopped dead by the locals for three periods, and only lack of reserve strength enabled the Devil Dogs to run up a score.

In considering the players of the local squad there are some men we never hear about; the scrubs. Everyday the scrubs take their daily dozen wallops and are cannon fodder for the Varsity, but there are some embryo football players with the scrubs; some who will in the near future help George Washington to give Georgetown a fine trimming. Tubby Fletcher, Bevo Miller, Charlie Libdell, Johnnie Ketcham, E. Miller, Fats Meyers, and Arthur Verner, all of whom give their best and aid greatly in developing the team.

Ohlander to Attend Conference.

Lyle W. Ohlander will attend the meetings of the Intrafraternity Conference in New York, Friday and Saturday, following Thanksgiving.

JOHNS HOPKINS BEAT BUFF AND BLUE, 62-6

Laux Scores Lone Touchdown By Receiving Pass—Lamar's Fumble Costly

Johns Hopkins University gridiron warriors took the Hatchettes into camp, 62-6, in the game played at the Homewood Field, Baltimore, Saturday, November 24. Fumbling of punts by Lamar, quarterback for the Buff and Blue, was in a large measure responsible for the trouncing.

Touchdowns came thick and fast in the first quarter, the Baltimore team amassing 29 points, four touchdowns and a placement kick. In the second period, with the breeze aiding, the Quigleyites braced and kept the ball in Hopkins' territory a great portion of the time. A 12-yard pass, Lamar to Laux, and his dash of 40 yards accounted for G. W.'s lone touchdown. Neither team was able to score in the third quarter.

The work of Dowd and Ketchum featured the secondary defense, while Ptak, Allen, and Hottel played their usual stellar game in the line.

The score is not a fair comparison of the two teams. A better basis of judging can be had from the other statistics. George Washington made 10 first downs; Johns Hopkins, 13. Six forward passes were completed by the Quigleyites to their opponents' four.

When Laux crossed the Black and Blue goal line it was the first time this season that a touchdown had been scored against John Hopkins on its home field.

ADDRESSES CHEMISTS ON ELECTROPLATING

Dr. William Blum Speak to Society—
Heller is Elected Treasurer at Meeting

Dr. William Blum, of the Bureau of Standards, was the speaker of the evening at the George Washington University Chemical Society, November 21. Dr. Blum spoke on "Researches in Electro-Deposition," and illustrated his lecture with charts and specimens of plate and electrolytes. "Up to ten or fifteen years ago," said Dr. Blum, "electroplating was carried on by rule of thumb, as it very largely is to-day. The electroplater had a secret process, which he guarded carefully, and he seldom learned anything new. Far-sighted electroplaters began to see that if the best interests of the industry were furthered that an educational system must be carried on."

How the Bureau of Standards has risen to meet this need, was pointed out by Dr. Blum. The work of the bureau is directed toward a study of the principles and their application in industry. As an instance of the value of the work done, he cited an instance of the exceedingly fine point of acidity of the electroplating solution, in which the hydrogen content should be nearly one millionth normal for the best work. Without the Bureau of Standards, it might have been years before this was determined.

W. L. Heller was elected treasurer of the society at the meeting. Mr. Heller submitted a report showing the balance in the treasury. He has been treasurer pro tem.

A plan for members of the society to visit the steel works and Dupont Explosive Plant, at Wilmington, Del., and the American Sugar Refinery, at Baltimore, Md., were outlined.

Formation of the proposed chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was discussed. If such a chapter is formed, chemists and chemical engineers will be alike admitted. Under such a chapter, the Chemical Society will lose its identity, and there has been much opposition to it on this score. R. M. Hann, former president of the society, argued at some length against the plan.

The next meeting of the society will be held December 19, at which Dr. L. I. Shaw, of the Bureau of Mines, will give an illustrated lecture on "Hellum." R. M. Hann will give a student paper, competing for the medal by the society for the best paper. It was decided at the meeting that judges will be appointed to pass on these papers, and that they may not last over thirty minutes, and may not be discussed over fifteen.

Refreshments, consisting of red hots and coffee, were served by the Chi Sigma Gamma sorority. This organization will take charge of the refreshments of the society for the year, and promises to give a fine feed at the December meeting. The supper was very novel, in that the coffee was served in chemical beakers, and the Medical Laboratory served as the dining room.

WHIRLWIND CONTESTS IN INTERFRAT BASKETBALL

The interfrat basketball produced two whirlwind games last Monday, when Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Sigma Nu and Phi Sigma Kappa defeated Delta Tau Delta.

The Phi Sig-Delt game was the thriller of the evening. The final contest for the championship cup was played between these two last year and both teams went on the floor determined that neither was going to get the lead this year. They showed the results of hard preparation and strenuous practice, and both played real basketball. The Phi Sigs won by a final score of 12 to 8.

The S. P. E. and Sigma Nu contest was somewhat less scientific, but none the less determined. The score was 10 to 2.
